Geo. M. Cohan's Big Farce Comedy Hit

DEKAN GROTTO BENEFIT WEEK

"The Baby Cyclone"

WEEK STARTING MONDAY, DECEMBER 2nd

"The Baby Cyclone," next week's offering of the Gardiner Players at this theatre, will be seen here for the first time in stock following on its phenomenal success at the Henry Miller Theatre, in New York City, where it was produced by its author, George M. Cohan, with such famous New York stars as Grant Mitchell, Natalie Moorehead, Georgia Caine and Nan Sunderland in the cast.

"The Baby Cyclone" is a farce comedy and offers each and every member of the Gardiner Players an exceptional opportunity to display his or her ability at winning laughter. It comes from the pen of the writer of many of the stage's most famous mirth makers (George M. Cohan) and is that author in his very best form.

PANTAGES' RAZZBERRIES

Don't forget every Monday night is bargain night, all seats 50 cents, tax included, if tickets are bought and paid for by 7.30. Wednesday and Saturday matinees, 25 cents until 2 p.m. Seats reserved for all performances.

We need more season reservations; why not YOU.

Fill out the blank and hand to any employee of the theatre or at the box office.
